Tailwind Capital Chairs CAO US Regional Conference in Washington DC

October 12th, 2009

Bryson Monteleone, Marketing Director for Tailwind Capital LLC, has been invited once again to chair the Regional Airline Day of Commercial Aviation Online's US Valuation Conference, held annually in Washington D.C. With a full day's agenda focused on the regional airlines and corresponding markets for regional aircraft, Monteleone will be facilitating panels and presentations on key issues concerning the regional airline sector to an audience of senior industry leaders and decision makers. Key issues to be addressed include: Bombardier's new C-Series and how larger aircraft will fit with the regional airlines, current issues with regional aircraft leasing and finance, and market trends for new and used regional aircraft.

Tailwind Capital, LLC continues to be an active participant in the regional jet market through its sales and leasing activity and through its Hemisphere 200XR program, converting Bombardier CRJ-200LR aircraft into high specification VIP aircraft (www.hemisphere200.com). Hemisphere 200XR aircraft feature a brand new interior/exterior and auxiliary fuel tank system which are certified by both the FAA and EASA. Tailwind delivered its first Hemisphere 200XR to Netherlands-based charter operator Solid aiR in July of 2009.
